FUSION IN IDAHO.

Demand of the Populists Agreed to by the Democrats. At 6 o'clock last evening the democratic and populist state conventions at Boise Idaho, had not completed their work, the populists having made very little progress during the day. The conference committee reported the division, as given in Thursday night's dispatches; also that the fused party be called the reople's democratic party. The arrangement respecting the United States Senator does not please the populists, and they spent the entire day trying to get it straightened, the last demand being that the democrats shall agree to sup-port a man selected by the populist legis-lative caucus. The populists did nothing more than to adopt their platform. It is devoted entirely to state matters. One plank says:

"We heartly indorse the action of the national people's party in convention at St. Louis."

Another plank of general interest is: "Believing in equal rights to all and special privileges to none, we favor the adoption of the pending woman suffrage amendment to the Constitution."
The democratic convention went ahead faster. It adopted a platform and nominated R. P. Quarles of Salmon for supreme judge and Frank Stuenenberg of Caldwell for governor. The platform says in part:

"Representatives of the party in Idaho in convention renew their fidelity to the principles of the democratic party as formulated by Jefferson and reaffirmed in the platform adopted by the representatives of our party in the Chicago convention of We ratify and confirm the nominations made at Chicago, and pledge our-selves to use every honorable effort to secure the election of William J. Bryan and Arthur Sewall President and Vice Presi-dent of the United States. We recommend to the favorable consideration of the voters of the state the proposed constitutional amendment granting equal suffrage, be-lieving that this great question should re-ceive the earnest attention of every person is an important factor of the future welfare of the state.'

At the evening session the democrats no-tified the populists that they would accede to the last demand. The populists at once receded and fusion was closed up.

The Late Reuben Parnell.

Mr. Reuben Parnell, who died in this city last Monday, was born in King William county, Va., in 1811. He came to this city 6in 1863, and had lived here to the time of his death. He joined the Baptist Church at the age of twelve years, and in 1864, at the organization of the Fourth Baptist Church, was selected one of its deacons, and also a trustee, which offices he held with honor. He was untiring in his zeal and ardor in the Christian work. In the early days of progress of the church he performed many good deeds, and had since struggled hard for the upbuilding of the church of which he was a member and officer. The people of his church deeply mourn his loss. His funeral will take place from the Metropolitan Baptist Church, R street between 12th and 13th streets northwest, tomorrow at 11 o'clock a.m.

MR. BLAND AT LAUREL

The Missouri Leader Pleads for Free Coinage.

COST OF MAINTAINING GOLD RESERVE

Believes in the Government Paying Out Silver.

THE UNDERLYING QUESTION

LAUREL, Md. August 22.-The home of Senator Arthur P. Gorman was the scene last night of the first political meeting in Maryland during the campaign. The orator of the occasion was ex-Congressman Richard P. Bland, who, until Bryan made his famous speech at the Chicago convention was the leading candidate for the presidency. While at the home of Senator Gorman, Mr. Bland was not there at the Senator's invitation. He was there at the request and as the guest of Auditor Ernest P. Baldwin of the Treasury Department who is a warm personal friend of Mr. Bland, their friendship dating back to the time when Auditor Baldwin was a factor in Missouri politics and a member of the Missouri state senate. Mr. Baldwin is one of the few administration officials who favor the free coinage of silver.

Mr. and Mrs. Bland went out to Laurel from Washington at 4:53 o'clock, and were met at the depot by Auditor Baldwin, who escorted them to his home, on Railroad avenue. Between 7 and 7:45 o'clock Mr. and Mrs. Bland held a public reception at Mr. Baldwin's residence and shook hands Mr. Baldwin's residence and shook hands with several hundred persons. After the reception Mr. Bland was escorted by a torchlight procession through the principal streets of Laurel. He occupied an open carriage in the procession with Mr. Lawrence Gardner, the District national committeeman, and Mayor Phelps of Laurel. Mrs. Bland was in another carriage with Mrs. Ernest P. Baldwin and her niece. Miss Thomas of Missouri. All along the route of the procession Mr. Bland was route of the procession Mr. Bland was cheered. The procession was headed by the Laurel Military Band.

The procession arrived at the Laurel grove, the place of the meeting, at about 8:15, and at 8:20 the meeting was called to order by President T. M. Baldwin of the Laurel Democratic Club, under whose auspices the meeting was held. Mayor Edward Phelps was chaltman of the meeting. ward Phelps was chairman of the meeting. There was a large gathering, running above the thousand mark. The audience consistdof farmers from Anne Arundel, Howard, Montgomery and Prince George's. There were also delegations present from the East Washington Democratic Association and other democratic organizations from the District. A large number of the Lakeland Bryan and Sewall Club attended. Mayor Edward Phelps introduced the distinguished silver leader, amid great cheer-ing. Most of his audience appeared to be in sympathy with his utterances

Mr. Bland's Speech.

Mr. Bland said, in part: "Fellow citizens, are you satisfied with the present condition of affairs? (Cries of 'No, no!') If you are not, how are these conditions to be changed? (Cries of 'By free silver.') Yes, they are to be changed by free silver and the ballot box. Everybody expects a change. Even William C. Whitney and the change. Even William C. Whitney and the monopolists of this country expect a change. This is the first time in the past quarter of a century that the lines have been drawn between the great voting masses of the people of this country and those who have been the beneficiaries of class legislation.

"What we complain of today is that it has cost this government and the taxpayers of this nation from $252,000,000 to $262,-000,000 in the past three years to maintain terest on that amount the total will be more than double that amount. It so happens, and I thank God, that our party has broken loose from the Whitneys, the corporations and the trusts of this country. We believe the laboring classes of this country ought to take charge of this government and control it in their interest. Our opponents are endeavoring to put us on the defensive, but they cannot do it.

If the Republicans Won. "If the republicans put Mr. McKinley in the executive chair, he will do exactly what Mr. Cleveland has done, and can do nothing else. To maintain the gold stand ard he will have to issue bonds as Mr. Cleveland has done. Republicans are de nouncing Mr. Cleveland, and will vote for McKinley, who cannot do anything more than Mr. Cleveland has done. How can Mr. McKinley maintain the gold standard in any other way than Mr. Cleveland has done? You have no law upon the statute done? You have no law upon the statute book that requires that a single cent shall be paid in gold and gold only. Your internal revenue taxes may be paid in gold or silver certificates, or any form of currency, as well as your other taxes. The gold people intend to make the customs duties and other duties, as well as taxes, payable in gold. When they make us pay taxes in gold and only gold, then the laboring man will understand what taxation means. The United States Senate is the means. The United States Senate is the body which stands between the people and these Wall street sharks. A bill to issue bonds of different denominations was brought up in the last Congress, but failed to pass the Senate and died in that body. The Senate is for free coinage by a majority, and will prevent and bar out any legislation upon the lines of the gold stand-

"In the election of Mr. Bryan is the only hope of a change. You could not have a tariff bill passed, even if Mr. McKinley should be elected, because the Senate stands as a barrier against it. You could not pass any bill looking to the mainte-nance of the gold standard because the Senate would oppose, even if Mr. McKinley Senate would oppose, even if Mr. McKinley, occupied the executive chair and desired it. You might as well pass a decree that Mr. Cleveland should be President the next Mr. Cleveland should be President the next Mr. McKinley. Mr. four years as to elect Mr. McKinley. Mr. McKinley would have to rely upon the laws, which Mr. Cleveland has had to do, namely, to sell bonds all the time in order o keep up the gold reserve

"I believe the temper of the American people is such that they will not be able to pass any tariff or currency legislation that does not include the restoration of sil-(Applause.)

"In 1892 we voted for a change, but it was simply the republicans in over again. We intend now to have a change. (A voice-"Let us have Gorman demoracy.")

Redeem in Silver.

"If the Treasury Department would perform its duty right and conform to the law when these European speculators demanded gold for export, and the government had silver in greater amount, they should turn silver over to them, and thus stop the gold

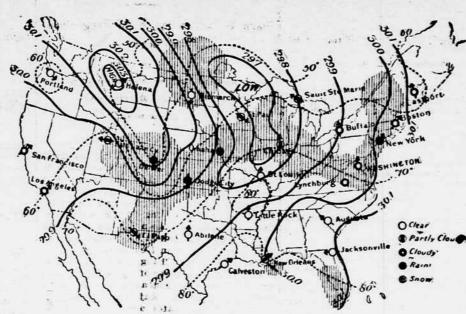

"The gold people claim to be very mag-nanimous. Do they propose, in maintain-ing the gold standard, to make the rich poorer and the poor richer, as they would have you believe? Why, of course, not. have you believe? Why, of course, not.

"With free coinage, we are told that all of our gold will go abroad. It has all gone abroad fiready. The only way you can get gold today is by issuing bonds.

"We are told that if we pay out silver the same as gold we will go to a silver besis. And yet Mr. Sherman, after the law of 1878, v hich authorized the limited coinage of silver, had passed insisted that the age of silver, had passed, insisted that the law enabled him to resume specie pay-ments. Mr. Carlisle in his testimony before the judiciary committee in the Fifty-third Congress said that had it been the policy of the government to redeem in silver a well as in gold from the beginning of re-sumption he believed it would work well, but he was afraid to try the experiment, for fear that it might result disastrously. The people will decide this.

France Pays Out Silver.

"These gold people point to other countries and nations as a lesson to us. But let us investigate. Here is France. That country has more silver and gold than we have in circulation, and has more paper than we have redeemable in gold or silver THE OFFICIAL WEATHER MAP.

EXPLANATORY NOTE: Observations taken at 8 a.m., 75th meridian time. Solid lines are isobars, or lines of equal air pressure, drawn for each tenth of an inch. Dotted lines are isotherms, or lines of equal temperature, drawn for each ten degrees. Shaded areas are regions where rain or snow has fallen during preceding twelve hours. The words "High" and "Low" show location of areas of high and low barometer. Small arrows fly with the wind

A FAIR SUNDAY.

What the Weather Burgan Promises for Tomorrow.

Forecast till 8 p.m. Sunday: For the District of Columbia, Maryland and Virginia, threatening weather and light showers, but it will probably be fair by Sunday afternoon; southerly winds, shifting to westerly.

Weather conditions and general forecast The barometer has fallen east of the Mis sissippi and in the southwest, and it has risen at northern Rocky mountain stations and in the upper Missouri valley. The barometer is lowest over Wisconsin and highest over Colorado. It is cooler generally to the west of the Mississippi and warmer to the eastward. Thunder storms and showers are reported this morning from northern states and gencrally fair weather in southern states.

The indications are that generally fair weather will continue in south Atlantic and gulf states, and local showers are indicated

"Why do the gold people denounce the Chicago ticket and platform? It is because they believe that if it is successful that their day of raiding the treasury, of speculating in gold, or reorganizing trusts and monopolies without being prosecuted under the law will have come to an end.

The Underlying Question.

"The money question is the overshadowing issue, but behind it there is another question which addresses itself to the free people of this country, and that is, When are you going to take control of your country and govern it yourselves? (Cries of 'We are ready now.') You have a candidate now pledged to it, and the men arrayed against you fully understand this.

Coming of Foreign Silver.

"They tell us that if we restore silver

all of the silver of the world will be dumped on the mints of the United States.

When it comes what will be done with it?

(A voice, 'Give it to Mary Hanna.") If it is coined into our money will it be shipped back from whence it came? No. It will be invested here in property; it will be used to erect factories, and the men who have tramped for work and begged for bread will find work at good wages. So, if the dump comes it will be put to some useful purpose. It will give labor employment and promote industrial enterprise. It will increase our production of employment and promote industrial enter-prise. It will increase our production of farm, factory and mine. But this will so the be done. There will be no great dump of silver dollars. Silver will remain in ex-of silver dollars. Silver will have the silver dollars in the silver which is being produced at the mines will go to the mints of this country and others and go into circuation and will not be denied monetary

"Our silver dollar today will buy as much as our gold dollar. Why? Because the wealth of this country keeps the silver dollar on par with the gold dollar. Our sliver dollar is compared to the Mexican dollar, but the gold people know that this country is greater than that country; that our wealth and amount of production is not to be compared with that of Mexico. "If the flat of Queen Victoria makes gold the money of the world, why can't the flat of Uncle Sam make silver the money of the world? If England has had the power to make gold the money of the world where is the power of this country if she cannot dictate the money of the world." Mr. Bland then defined the term of 16

Effect of Free Coinage.

"They say the demonetization of silver

Why on earth, then, are they insisting

Father Martinelli Expected by Mem bers of the Order to Arrive in This Country Some Time in September.

No word has yet been received by the Augustinian Fathers in Philadelphia confirming the published statement that the Most Rev. Sebastian Martineili, prior provincial of the Augustinian Order throughout the world, has been appointed by Pope Leo XIII to succeed Cardinal Satolli as apostolic delegate to the United States. The general belief, however, which prevails not only among the Augustinians, but also among the Jesuits and the Catholic clergy, both secular and regular, is that the appropriate correct and that that the announcement is correct and that 'Father Martinelli is a very learned man. His work at Rome has been of an important character. In the United States the Augustinians In the United States the Augustinians have only one province. They are more numerous in other countries, however. In Spain and the Philippine Islands, for instance, they have half a dozen provinces, and they are also established in Germany, Belgium, Holland, Austria, Ireland and England. In this country the order numbers about sixty priests. The Augustinians came to Philadelphia about 1706 and it is came to Philadelphia about 1796, and, it is said, were the first canonically established religious province in the United States. The Augustinian Order is one of the four mendicant orders of the Catholic Church, mendicant orders of the Catholic Church, the other three being the Carmelites, the Franciscans and the Dominicans. It claims its origin from St. Augustine, Bishop of Hippo, who was born in Numidia November 13, A.D. 354, and who has been pronounced the greatest of the four doctors of the church, "more profound than Ambrose, his spiritual father; more original and systematic than Jerome, his contemporary and correspondent, and intellectually far more distinguished than Gregory the Great, the last of the series."

the Great, the last of the series."

A union of the order, which had existed in separate congregations, was effected in A.D. 1254. Two habits are prescribed for the members, one of black, which is worn in the church and outside the house, the other consisting of a white cowl and robe and a leather cincture. This last article of apparel is used in imitation of that worn by St. Augustine when he was baptized by St. Ambrose at Milan. In this country, however, the priests of the order wear the black habit only; they live a common life, and their bedrooms, which are called "cells," are carpetless and devoid of all luxuries. void of all luxuries.

JOHN DILLON WILLING TO RETIRE

Hopes to See Basis Provided for Reuniting the Party.

(Copyright, 1896, by the Associated Press.) LONDON, August 22.-The Irish national convention opens its sessions in Dublin Tuesday, September 1. It is expected that about 1,200 delegates from Ireland and Great Britain will be present. Several delegates are also expected from America, Canada, Australia and South Africa, but It is not possible to estimate their numbers. The convention is expected to last three days. It has been summoned, so its promoters state, with "the desire of laying national representatives in parliament." To a representative of the Associated Press Mr. John Dillon, M. P., after carefully considering the developments of the past fortnight, said:

down a platform in which all Irish na tionalists who are supporters of home rule can unite and thus secure a united body of A Basis for Reunion.

"I do not expect miracles from the convention, but I do see the strongest ground for hope that it will provide a basis of reunion. It will afford an opportunity to all Irish nationalists who are disgusted with the contentions and divisions of the last few years to make their voices heard. And I am convinced that although complete reunion may not be achieved at the convention a movement will spring from it which will result in the reconstruction of a united Irish party. The divisions among the Irish members of parliament cast discredit upon Ireland, and to a great extent paralyze the power of the Irish party in parliament to forward the interests of the pariament to forward the interests of the national cause, and if they were allowed to continue they would inevitably once more entirely destroy the confidence of the Irish people in the efficacy of any action in the British parliament. These dissensions do not spring from any essential difference in policy, but are questions of personality, and ought not to be tolerated by the Irish-peo-

"In promoting the convention which will meet in Dublin in September, I have simply been pursuing the policy which I have followed since I was elected in February last as chairman by the seventy-one mem-bers who constitute the national party in parliament. That policy is based on the conviction that reunion among the nation-alists is of the first importance in the naional program.

"It has been charged against me by those "It has been charged against me by those who are opposed to the reunion that I make it a condition that nationalists shall unite under my chairmanship. There is not the slightest foundation for this statement, as I have all along made it clear that the moment any one can be agreed upon under whose chairmanship or leadership all will consent to unite, my resignation is at the disnosal of the national nation is at the disposal of the national party. This will be made quite clear to the convention. And, for my part, I do not care to what section the man may have belonged, provided he can secure the unitbelonged, provided he can secure the unit-ed support of the Irish nationalist mem-bers. I should resign immediately in his tayor and give him loyal support. "The regulations under which the con-vention has been summoned are the best vention has been summoned are the best proof that no attempt has been made to pack it in any particular interest; ali or-ganized bodies of nationalists having been invited to send delegates in proportion to In view of the rumors that there is not so much harmony in regard to the conven-tion as Mr. Dillon's hope would lead one to suppose, the Associated Press representa-tive asked Mr. T. P. Healy, M. P., his views. Mr. Healy said:

Healy Will Stay Away.

"I am not going to attend the convention. At least twenty-five of my friends will also stay away. The convention, as a convenflon of the Irish race, is a fraud. It is called simply to legitimatize the position of Mr. Dillon. It is all very well to talk about delegates from Australia, America and Canada, but such delegates will not come in expectation of controlling anything. They will be controlled, because it is impossible for them to understand the exact situation of affairs. Then, again, any true situation of affairs. Then, again, any true convention of the Irish race would be called on a definite statement of principles, certain published resolutions; it would not be a mouse-trap, balted with harmony cheese, to be shut with a snap as soon as the refractory mice were nicely inside. The first thing that will be done will be to bind the minority by the majority rule Will the minority by the majority rule. Will hat make harmony? "The convention is a fraud, and in no sense can it represent the Irish race." The results of the late session do not make for reunion, as the fate of the land bill was fashioned by Healy and not Dillon. The government has really been afraid of Healy, who, with a handful of Irishmen, has not at complete defigure the severn. has set at complete defiance the govern-ment's majority of 150. The honors of the session are Healy's.

Another Prisoner Released.

LONDON, August 22.-Albert George Whitehead, one of the Irish political prisrers who has been serving a life sentence of penal servitude since his conviction in London in 1883, was released from Portland convict prison this morning. Whitehead is an American citizen, and prior to his coming to this country resided in the state of New Jersey. He will probably sail for the United States on Monday next.

Whitehead, whose real name is Murphy, was convicted with Dr. Thomas Gailagher, John Curtin Kent and Henry Hammond Wilson, in London, thirteen years ago, and sentenced to penal servitude for life. The latest reports from confidential sources on the other side to the men who are working for the Amnetty Association in this for the Amnesty Association in this country say that Whitehead is mentally unbalarced, a result of the treatment he received
